Fall in France? Yes, please.

Just a 55-minute train ride from central Paris is the newly opened HOTEL CHÂTEAU located in the village of Le Grand-Lucé. The 17-room destination is not only a glorious place to rest your head while on a French holiday, but Hotel Château is credited in bringing luxury and sophistication to the Loire Valley. The 45,000-sq.-ft. hotel is the former country home of the Baron Jacques Pineau de Viennay and has been returned to its 18th-century glory. It remains one of the finest examples of French neoclassical architecture to date. In addition to its beautiful rooms and suites, the treasured property also features a ballroom, the authentic French restaurant Le Lucé, a bar, a spa and fitness salon, an outdoor pool and classic French gardens.
